

SAMPLE EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

This handbook describes the fictional workplace policies of Pexus Advisory Services. It was created only for testing an internal document assistant and does not represent a real company or legal policy.

WORKING HOURS AND ATTENDANCE

Normal working hours are from 9:00 AM until 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday. Employees receive a one-hour lunch break, normally taken between 12:00 PM and 2:00 PM. Team members should arrive on time and be ready to begin work at the start of their scheduled shift. If an employee expects to arrive late, they must notify their supervisor as soon as possible through the approved communication channel.

Employees working more than six hours must record their attendance using the company's digital attendance system. Repeated lateness may lead to a meeting with the employee's supervisor. Overtime must be approved by a department manager before the additional work begins. Unapproved overtime may not qualify for additional compensation.

ANNUAL LEAVE AND SICK LEAVE

Full-time employees receive 20 days of paid annual leave during each calendar year. Leave requests should normally be submitted at least two weeks before the planned absence. Approval depends on team availability, current projects, and operational requirements. Employees should not purchase non-refundable travel tickets until their leave request has been approved.

A maximum of five unused annual leave days may be carried into the following year. Any remaining unused days expire on December 31 unless an exception is approved by Human Resources.

Employees also receive 10 days of paid sick leave per year. Employees who are unable to work because of illness must notify their supervisor before 9:00 AM. A medical certificate may be requested when an absence lasts for more than three consecutive working days.

REMOTE-WORK POLICY

Employees may work remotely for up to two days per week with their manager's approval. Tuesday and Thursday are the preferred remote-working days, although teams may establish different schedules. Employees must remain available during normal working hours and attend scheduled online meetings.

Company information must only be accessed using approved devices and secure networks. Employees must not use public computers to access internal systems. Confidential conversations should not take place in public locations where unauthorized people could hear them.

EXPENSES AND BUSINESS TRAVEL

Reasonable business expenses may be reimbursed when they are necessary for approved company activities. Expense claims must be submitted within 30 days of the purchase. Every claim must include a receipt, the date of purchase, the amount paid, and a short explanation of its business purpose.

Domestic travel must be approved by a department manager. International travel requires approval from both the department director and the finance team. Employees should select reasonably priced transportation and accommodation. Personal purchases, entertainment unrelated to business, and fines are not reimbursable.

INFORMATION SECURITY

Employees must create strong passwords and must never share passwords with colleagues or external individuals. Multi-factor authentication must be enabled wherever the company provides it. Devices should be locked whenever an employee leaves them unattended.

Suspected phishing emails, lost devices, and accidental disclosure of confidential information must be reported to the security team immediately. Employees must not upload confidential documents to unauthorized AI services, personal cloud-storage accounts, or public websites.

Before using an external AI provider, employees should remove unnecessary personal or confidential information. Approved AI tools may only be used for legitimate business purposes. AI-generated content must be reviewed by a responsible employee before it is sent to a client or used for an important decision.

PERFORMANCE AND TRAINING

Managers conduct formal performance reviews twice per year, normally in June and December. Reviews consider work quality, reliability, collaboration, communication, and progress toward agreed objectives. Employees are encouraged to discuss challenges with their managers throughout the year instead of waiting for a formal review.

Each employee receives an annual professional-development budget of 500 dollars. The budget may be used for approved courses, certifications, books, or industry events. Employees must receive approval before making a purchase and should share important learning outcomes with their team.

WORKPLACE CONDUCT

All employees must communicate respectfully with colleagues, clients, and partners. Discrimination, harassment, bullying, intimidation, and retaliation are prohibited. Workplace concerns may be reported to a supervisor or directly to Human Resources.

Employees must protect client information and avoid conflicts of interest. Gifts valued above 100 dollars must be declared to the compliance team. Employees who are uncertain about a policy should request guidance rather than making assumptions.
